AGENDA ITEM TITLE:

Presentation and discussion of proposed amendments to the Town of Chino Valley Consolidated Fee Schedule regarding Business License fees related to marijuana and liquor related businesses. (James Gardner, Associate Planner)

SITUATION & ANALYSIS:

The intent of these proposed amendments is for the fee schedule to reflect the costs involved in regulating these businesses, processing licenses, verifying and retaining records, and related inspections by multiple Town departments.

Marijuana and Liquor Related Businesses: Marijuana related businesses have an additional level of documentation required by state Statute, and the general business license fee alone is inadequate to recover direct and indirect costs of administration related to document retention, inspections, and investigations. Liquor licenses are graduated and different Series of license require increased oversight based upon the kind of sales and activities that are happening on-site, inspections related to on-site sales are necessary to recover the cost of staff time related to ensure compliance.

Land Use Fees: Land use fees currently include an advertisement fee of $115 per advertisement (generally, this is 2), and are rolled into the price of a land use application (Rezone/CUP/PAD). Currently, required notifications in the form of mailings and posters are completed by the applicant, and, for consistency, it is should be incumbent upon the applicant to advertise for the neighborhood meetings and public hearings which will be held as part of the application process.

AGENDA ITEM TITLE:

Presentation and discussion regarding Wastewater Treatment Facility evaluation. (Chris Bartels, Public Works Manager)

SITUATION & ANALYSIS:

The Town of Chino Valley Utility Staff assumed operational responsibility of the wastewater treatment plant in April, 2015. Over the past year, Utility Staff conducted a thorough inspection and assessment of the wastewater treatment plant. The key elements of evaluation were focused on the following: gaining an operational understanding of the wastewater treatment facility; identifying critical and inoperable equipment; developing costs and prioritization schedule for the replacement of the equipment; projecting long term needs of the facility; developing and implementing a revenue strategy. Through this process, utility staff identified several factors contributing to the decreased operational efficiency of the wastewater treatment facility.

All wastewater treatment facilities are individually operationally unique, and the Chino Valley Wastewater Treatment facility is no exception. Facilities are designed and engineered to meet industry standards and the specific needs of the community in which they are constructed. However, the wastewater influent stream can be as distinctive as the individuals that operate these types of facilities. Wastewater influent conditions are ever changing. Therefore, it is necessary to operate and observe these flow conditions over an extended period of time to develop the required knowledge operators need to make informed decisions regarding recommendations for improvements.

The wastewater treatment facility was constructed and commissioned in October, 2004. Twenty-four hour a day operation of the facility has been ongoing for the past 10+ years. Equipment subjected to the extreme adverse conditions of a wastewater treatment environment is expected to have a decreased service life relative to the industry standard. The equipment at the Chino Valley Wastewater treatment facility either has or will be shortly in need of refurbishment or replacement. The cost and replacement schedule for the refurbishment or replacement of the necessary equipment spans over the next three fiscal years are estimated to be $464,000.00.

The development of a comprehensive proactive maintenance program is essential to the efficient operation of any industrial facility and the lack of a properly implemented maintenance program will contribute to an increase in electrical consumption, increased chemical demands, decreased influent processing capabilities and an overall increase in facility operation costs.

One option to help offset current and future costs is to develop a septage receiving program. There is a current and growing regional need for the development of septage receiving and processing facilities. There are only two facilities in the region that receive septage. The amount received is restricted and the remaining balance is transported to the Phoenix Metro area. The development of a septage receiving program in the area will not only help to accommodate the needs of local area businesses but also provide a means of revenue for the Town of Chino Valley wastewater enterprise fund. The program will be developed under the strictest guidelines and protocols to ensure the efficient and safe operation of the wastewater treatment facility.

The Chino Valley Utility division is recommending the refurbishment / replacement of critical equipment nearing the end of its service life over the next three fiscal years, implementation of a comprehensive proactive maintenance program and development of a program to receive septage to increase enterprise fund revenues.
